What does the perception data tell you?	Data tells the team the direction in which we need to take the school improvement focus.
What process data did you use?	Handbook, Emergency Plans, Safety Team, Procedures Safety Plan, Student Handbook, Safety Committee Minutes
What does your process data tell you?	Students and staff feel safe at school and teachers provide a rigorous classroom for student achievement. Work can be done on relationships between teacher and student, student and student and parent and school.
What achievement data did you use?	End of course assessment data, graduation rate, SAT scores, pathway completers and student sub-group data
What does your achievement data tell you?	SAT results are even with the state. Pathway completers show a much higher % than the state. Graduation rate is higher than state average. Fewer Black students and students with disabilities are performing at proficient and distinguished levels. Fewer Black students and students with disabilities are performing at proficient and distinguished levels. SAT results are even with the state. Pathway completers show a much higher % than the state. Graduation rate is higher than state average.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The various departments, Patriot Pods, data teams, and leadership groups at NHS demonstrate dedication to improving students' educational experiences as evidenced by their meeting agendas and the regularity with which they meet. The Self-Regulated Learning SIP, and the various components of it, opened up good dialogue amongst the faculty members but we have not yet embedded this concept into the culture of our school. Another trend we noticed is the struggle with student attendance. The SIP team recommends we continue focusing on both these areas as means to improve our instructional system, both for teachers and students.
