2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA’s data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by “TFS” (too few students).

What perception data did you use?	GMAS data, QBA data, teacher surveys, student surveys
-----------------------------------	---

What does the perception data tell you?	Our school data tells us that we still need to focus on improving our school-wide Lexile scores. Our school connectedness is improving but we would like to continue to grow in this area by further improving our TAA program.
---	---

What process data did you use?	The processes that we have in place include Grade Level Curriculum Planning, data teams, team meetings (cross-curricular meetings), and co-teaching meetings that discuss the instructional strategies, areas of strength and weakness.
--------------------------------	---

What does your process data tell you?	We are operational in our processes at this time. We continue to strive towards ensuring that the processes are effective for student growth. Data teams need to be implemented bi-weekly with greater fidelity in order to meet students needs. Professional learning is needed to assist teachers in becoming more fluent in implementing data teams, Grade Level Curriculum meetings, team meetings and co-teaching meetings.
---------------------------------------	--

What achievement data did you use?	The achievement data that we used was our GMAS data and QBA data from QBA 2 and 3. Data was looked at by subgroups, grade level and individual teacher data.
------------------------------------	--

What does your achievement data tell you?	Students are still struggling to read on grade level.
---	---

What demographic data did you use?	We used the lag demographic data from the GMAS.
------------------------------------	---

What does the demographic data tell you?

We need to focus on our students with disabilities.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We have processes in place but we need to work to further analyze our data throughout the year using formative assessments through the data teams process. All teachers (especially our new teachers both from traditional and non-traditional programs) need to be well-versed in the standards and learning targets. Teachers also need to be well-versed in gradual release. Utilizing focus walks, data team minutes and teacher surveys professional learning can be implemented to assist teachers and leaders so that they can increase the effectiveness of core instruction and differentiate instruction to meet the needs of students not mastering the standards.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Leaders within the school know our school data and implement shared decision-making. We use a variety of data sources including GMAS data, formative assessment data, district-assessment data, student surveys, parent surveys and teacher surveys to guide decision-making. We use research-based strategies to improve student achievement. Throughout the year we ask for input from all stakeholders, including students, parents, community members and partners in education.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Teacher turnover rate is high. Further training is needed for deeper learning so that teachers can make connections with students of poverty. New teachers also need to deeper training on pedagogical knowledge and instructional practices to assist them in making connections and increasing student achievement.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We work hard to include our families and communities. Parents are informed of student progress utilizing Infinite Campus, phone call home (both positive and when parent assistance is needed), schoolnotes.com and our school website. Parent and community input is welcome through surveys, our open door policy, local school council and our partners in education program.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We offer a lot of extended learning opportunities to our students for both enrichment and remediation. Saturday Schools, Friday Evening Schools, after school tutorial, before school tutorials are offered to all students to ensure growth in student achievement, not just the students who are falling behind but also those who need enrichment. We are continuing to work with our students on respecting one another through the use of our Teachers as Advisors program. Students indicate that the majority of the students feel safe and supported at school.

Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We serve a low socio-economic population. 100% of our students have free breakfast and lunch. Resources are not readily available to extend learning opportunities at home. The home support is limited due to financial resources, single-parent homes in which the parent may or may not have the knowledge of how to support their children academically, or the parent has to work in the evenings leaving little time for academic support. Our students need all of the resources that we can give them during the school hours and through extended learning opportunities.

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Our students are growing overall in all academic areas. Our students with disabilities passed more GMAS tests overall this year but they still need more support to be successful in their classes and on state assessments. We also need more Gifted certified teachers in order to provide a more rigorous curriculum for gifted students and we need to continue to grow our gifted population. Our magnet student population continues to grow and we need to ensure that we are meeting their academic needs. We continue to work towards meeting state performance targets and subgroup performance targets.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	We are continually showing growth with our subgroups both students with disabilities and economically disadvantaged children. We utilize co-teaching to ensure that students are receiving a high-quality education and we are seeing continuous growth. One of our strengths are the safety net programs that we provide to our population which is 100% economically disadvantaged.

Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Challenges	One of our challenges has been retaining teachers which makes it difficult to sustain programs that we are implementing at the same level each year. We are continuously having to retrain teachers to implement high-quality core instruction. Another challenge that we face are students entering our school reading below grade level and although we are growing those students it is very difficult to bring them up to grade level.
